

Before we upgrade, we want your feedback!

Volunteers Wanted

Are you willing to spare an hour of your time to help Ontario's archives?

In March, the Archives Association of Ontario and the University of Toronto will be testing a new website for sharing information about archives in Ontario.

We are looking for people who would be willing to help us with the testing, in the University of Toronto's usability lab.

If you fall into any of the following categories are available on any of the dates below, please get in touch!

- Up to 10 volunteers who are archivists who have submitted descriptions to ARCHEION in the past
- Up to 10 volunteers who are researchers who have used the ARCHEION portal to locate archival holdings
- Up to 10 volunteers who are individuals with little or no experience conducting archival research - online or otherwise.

Please feel free to distribute this invitation widely to your friends, family and patrons, especially if they fall into the second and third categories!

Schedule of testing

March 9
between the hours of 9:00am - 5:00pm
March 10
between the hours of 9:00am - 8:00pm
March 11
between the hours of 9:00am - 8:00pm
March 14
between the hours of 9:00am - 8:00pm
March 16
between the hours of 9:00am - 5:00pm
March 17
between the hours of 9:00am - 8:00pm

Where:

Room 307 Usability Lab
Faculty for Information, University of Toronto
140 St. George Street
(North side of Robarts Library)

When:

March 2011

Testing Coordinator:

Jordan Phoenix, MSt candidate, UofT

To book an appointment, inquire about availability, please contact:

Amanda Hill, ARCHEION Coordinator,
archeion@aao-archivists.ca | 613-242-0106

Image: York University Students working at computer terminals, 1982. Computing & Network Services fonds, F0477 Clara Thomas Archives & Special Collections ASC0274.
Available at: <http://hdl.handle.net/10315/662>.