

WIPCVH

WORLD INDIGENOUS PEOPLES'
CONFERENCE ON VIRAL HEPATITIS

November 23, 2021 15:00 - 17:30 CST (GMT-6)

Lessons Learned from COVID-19 in Hepatitis Testing, Treatment and Care

A virtual mini conference hosted by the World Indigenous Peoples' Conference on Viral Hepatitis

Viral hepatitis impacts Indigenous peoples around the world at much higher-than-average rates, harming their physical, spiritual, emotional, social and economic health. COVID-19 has revealed many of the pre-existing health inequities Indigenous peoples face, but it has also provided opportunities to learn better approaches to testing, care and treatment of viral hepatitis. Indigenous people and allies will gather online to discuss those issues and work towards the elimination of viral hepatitis.

This virtual mini-conference will feature:

- A ceremonial opening and closing from an Elder
- Voices of lived and living experience
- A keynote from Carrielynn Lund, coordinator of the Drum & Sash project
- Presentations from international Indigenous hepatitis experts
- Cultural interludes and more

For more information and to register for this FREE event, please visit:

<https://wipcvh.org/virtual-mini-conference/>

Email: info@wipcvh.org Twitter: @wipcvh Instagram: @wipcvh #wipcvh

Supported by:

Canadian Association
for Global Health
Association canadienne
pour la santé mondiale

CAHR
ACRV

CANADIAN ASSOCIATION
FOR HIV RESEARCH
L'ASSOCIATION CANADIENNE
DE RECHERCHE SUR LE VIH

Saskatchewan

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN
College of Medicine
MEDICINE.USASK.CA