

DIALOGUE SERIES ON AFGHAN REFUGEE HEALTH & WELL-BEING

Food, Health & Well-being: Global to Local

FEBRUARY 18
2:00–3:30 pm EST
ONLINE

Join us for a critical dialogue on what might work, when and why for newly arrived Afghan refugees to feel at 'home'. This series explores pathways to resilience and capacity building through inclusion, involvement and participation of Afghan community members, scholars and service providers.

Speakers will share insights on challenges in times of conflict and crisis including:

- food insecurity and health through a global lens
- the experiences of public health crisis in Afghanistan
- the settlement process of refugees in Canada
- food as a vehicle for social bonding

REGISTER: go.yorku.ca/refugee

SPEAKERS

Kazim Hizbullah Sanikullah

Physician, Global Health Expert

Anushka Ataullahjan

Public Health Researcher, Centre for Global Child Health, Hospital for Sick Children
Assistant Professor, Dalla Lana School of Public Health, University of Toronto

Nawal Al-Busaidi

Director, Refugee Services, at COSTI Immigrant Services

Christopher Kyriakides

Canada Research Chair in Citizenship, Social Justice and Ethno-Racialization
Executive Committee member, Centre for Refugee Studies, York University

The session moderators are Professor Farah Ahmad and Ms. Wajma Soroor.

This Dialogue series is sponsored by the School of Health Policy and Management, and organized by the Afghan Response Working Group with members and support from Faculty of Health, Centre for Refugee Studies, and Dahdaleh Institute for Global Health Research.