

The Toronto Area Archivists Group (TAAG) presents

Copyright Escapades

Copyright can be fun!!

Join us for an evening of copyright fun playing a game of Copyright Escapades. The game uses a special deck of cards designating roles (e.g., creator, researcher, student, etc.), tasks (copying the created work for various purposes), copyright licences (creative commons licences that specify the conditions under which the work may be used), and voting cards (is your choice of licence appropriate for your use). Each player receives a one-page summary of the relevant provisions of Canadian copyright law to assist them in their decisions.

The games-master will be Jean Dryden, assisted by Hujma Chowdhury from the Copyright Office at the University of Toronto. Jean is a well-known copyright educator who has presented scores of workshops on copyright to archivists, librarians, and educators.

Participants will have an opportunity to:

- Unleash their inner artist as they create/adapt artistic works
- (Possibly) infringe copyright in a safe environment
- Consider what license to apply to artistic works created by themselves or colleagues.
- Vote on whether the adapted works infringe copyright
- Discuss the results of the vote

Those wishing to continue the discussion will adjourn to the Duke of York Pub, 39 Prince Arthur Avenue.

When: Thursday, 24 November 2022, 7:00 pm to 8:30 pm (followed by a 20-minute tour of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club)
Where: 141 St George Street (St. George & Bloor – Royal Canadian Yacht Club)
Cost: $20 (members), $15 (students), $40 (non-members)
Prerequisite: None, although some knowledge of copyright would be helpful.

Registration: To register, visit this link: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/449550075377>

Maximum number of registered participants: 14

Please note that this event requires a minimum of 10 participants to have registered by November 18th, 2022 at 11:59 EST

Recording: This event will NOT be recorded.

Please be advised that TAAG workshops and events are governed by the AAO's Code of Conduct.

If you have any questions, please contact taag.chapter@gmail.com